

Job Of The Week

30th January

HIGH SCHOOL TEACHER

Salary

The salary of a High school Teacher can range from £28,000 to £43,685

Typical Hours

37-45 hours a week. You could work evenings

Entry Requirements

You can get into this job through:

- A University Course - You could do an Undergraduate degree that leads to qualified teacher status (QTS) for example, Bachelor of Education (BEd), Bachelor of Arts (BA) with QTS or Bachelor of Science (BSc) with QTS
- If you already have a bachelors degree but without qualified teacher status, you can complete a Postgraduate Certificate in Education (PGCE). This can be done at University or through a training programme based in a school.
- For entry requirements, you'll usually need 4 or 5 GCSEs at grades 9 to 4 (A* to C), or equivalent, including English and Maths and 2-3 A-levels, or equivalent, for a degree
- An Apprenticeship - You could do the Teacher Level 6 Degree Apprenticeship
- For entry requirements, you'll usually need GCSEs at grades 9 to 4 (A* to C) in English and maths, followed by a degree for a Teaching Apprenticeship
- Working towards this role - You could work as a teaching assistant or learning mentor and do a part time degree. You could then move onto a postgraduate teaching course to qualify as a teacher

What You'll do

In this role you could:

- prepare teaching materials, set up the classroom and organise displays
- plan and teach lessons and work with small groups of students
- mark work and talk to parents and carers about their children's progress
- manage the work of teaching assistants
- follow safeguarding procedures and work with careers advisers, counsellors, education psychologists and social workers
- organise trips, after school clubs or exam revision classes
- work and attend meetings and training outside of usual working hours

Working environment

You could work at a school, at a college, at a pupil referral unit or at a special needs school. Your working environment may be physically and emotionally demanding.

Career Path & Progression

With experience you could:

- become a special educational needs teacher, further education teacher or move into pastoral care
- become a specialist leader of education and support teachers in other schools
- move up to be a curriculum leader, head of year, deputy head or headteacher
- work for an exam board, local education authority or work in a gallery or museum as an education officer
- work freelance as a private tutor

For more information

CLICK HERE